EDITORIAL: ON BEING PREPARED

Each year, we are reminded that the hurricane season begins on June 1 and we are often given tips about how we should prepare for such a disaster. As important as it is to be prepared for the hurricanes, there is a greater event that we should be preparing for—to meet God.

In preparing for a hurricane, the experts advice us what to do (e.g. have adequate storage of water, buy batteries for flashlights and radios among other things). God, through His Word, tells us how to prepare to meet Him. We simply must accept His gift of salvation and live a life that reflects Christ. God also tells us how to prepare for the enemy (satan) after we become Christians. The Bible tells us to put on the whole armour of God, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil (Eph 6:11).

In many respects, preparing for the hurricane season and preparing to meet God are similar but there is one distinct difference—we hear about preparing for hurricanes usually just 3-4 weeks (and sometimes less) prior to the hurricane season. God however, tells us to be in preparation mode at all times. He says be prepared because the “Son of man will come like a thief in the night”; we are told to be constant in prayer—to pray without ceasing; we are charged to be ready—in season and out of season.

May our hearts, words and deeds reflect our preparation to meet God.

UPCOMING EVENT

Harvest Supper - Friday, July 15, 2011

This month we will feature some of the married members within our congregation.

Sherlette and Rupert Whilby

Sherlette and Rupert got married in 1977—that was 34 years ago.

We got married because we were in love with each other and the truth is, “he wooed me off my feet.” We went out a lot—going to the movies and to beach parties. We had fun with each other and in each other’s company.

Our marriage has had ups and down but the key thing is to sit and talk. We share with each other and try to understand each other. Love must be a key ingredient in the marriage. The best part of our marriage is the companionship we share as well as the five children that the union has produced. This has really been rewarding.

Advice to other married persons is this “Teet and tongue will meet but you must know how to work it. Don’t let the sun go down on your wrath. Don’t hold malice with each other.”

Disaster Awareness Sunday

June 1, marked the start of the 2011 Hurricane Season. The Jamaica Baptist Union Mission Agency (JBUMA), through its Disaster Awareness and Emergency Response (DAER) Committee, has prepared a booklet entitled, “Disaster Preparedness and Recovery Planning.” (A copy of the book is available online at the church’s website). You are being encouraged to read this booklet for tips and ideas about how prepare for and keep safe, during and after a hurricane.

The JBUMA also encourages us to pray that God will Jamaica, the Caribbean and the rest of the World, of any disaster, while at the same time ask us to do everything we can do to make ourselves well prepared.

“Be prepared ... in season and out of season”

The first Sunday in June marks one year since Rev. Oral Campbell assumed pastoral oversight within the circuit. Rev. Campbell shares some of his thoughts about being at Emmanuel.

Rev. Campbell’s impressions of Emmanuel is that it is a church with a lot of potentials. He notes that “There is a lot that Emmanuel can do and needs to do.” He continued by saying “I have also discovered that there are a lot of people in Emmanuel who are hungry to do things and they are just waiting for the opportunity.” This revelation has come about based on one-to-one interactions with members who have from time-to-time, shared with him in different contexts. “This is encouraging to me that people want to serve.” As it relates to challenges relating to Emmanuel, the major one “is getting persons to see that they can be a part of the ministry of the church.” He revealed that some people do not believe they can do as much as they really can but he is prepared to work with them in this regard. Rev. Campbell shared that his most rewarding time within Emmanuel has to do with Bible study— “just seeing it growing weekly, to the point that I am fearful of missing out a week because it may set back things.” This has also been rewarding too because “the prayer ministry came up out of the Bible Study.”

Rev. Campbell expresses that he is “looking forward to many, many years of ministry within the church. I have some ideas I would really like us to explore as a church [and as a circuit] ... There is a lot that we can do and I am not only looking forward to sharing my ideas but looking forward to hearing from the church [and the circuit], what are some of the ideas and ministries they would like to be engaged in.”

(Next week’s issue of the newsletter will feature excerpts of an interview with Rev. Campbell and his feelings about the circuit and sharing in the life of the circuit.)

Remember to pray for the sick ... and shut-in members of the church and in our surrounding communities.
